Disclaimer (5/7)

The data collected during the use are processed exclusively by authorized subjects, with electronic and non-electronic instruments, for the time needed to reach the purposes for which the data are collected.

With a view to prevent data from being lost, illegally or improperly used, specific safety measures are implemented, aimed at guaranteeing confidentiality and avoiding the illicit access by third parties or not authorized staff, in compliance with law obligations.

Types of processed data and anonymous browsing data

IT systems and software procedures underlying the functioning of this web site acquire, during their normal operation, some personal data that are implicitly transmitted via the use of communication Internet protocols.

These data are not collected to be associated with identified interested individuals, but rather, based on their nature, they could, through processing and associations with data held by third parties, allow the identification of users.

Disclaimer (6/7)

This category of data includes IP addresses or domain names of the computers used by the users who browse the site, addresses in URI notation (Uniform Resource Identifier) of the required resources, the time of the request, the method used to submit the request to the server, the size of the file obtained in response, the numeric code indicating the state of the response given by the server (successful, error, etc.etc.) and other parameters concerning the operating system and the IT environment of the customer.

These data are used with the only purpose to obtain anonymous statistical information on the use of the site and of checking its proper operation. The data could moreover be used for ascertaining liabilities in the event of presumed IT offences that may damage the site.

Data supplied by the user on a voluntary basis

The optional, explicit and voluntary sending of emails to addresses indicated on this website shall lead to the acquisition of the email address of the sender, needed in order to respond to the sender's requests, and of any other personal data included in the message text.

The information supplied by the user is utilized by SC Sviluppo chimica S.p.A., on behalf of the Partners of the NANOFORCE Project, with the only purpose of collecting data and make customized statistics on the use of the site. The information shall be made available also to the Partners of the project.

Cookies

Cookies are small data files that are transferred to the computer of the user when a web site is visited for the first time. The file contains elements that are capable of unequivocally identifying the computer of the user. The use of so-called session cookies (that are not persistently stored on the user's computer and disappear when the browser is closed) is strictly confined to the transmission of the data identifying the session (composed of casual numbers generated by the server) needed for a safe and efficient exploration of the site. User can change website browser settings to reject cookies although this may impair the functionality of the website.

Rights of the interested parties

The subjects to whom the personal data are referred have the right at any time to obtain the confirmation of the existence or non-existence of the data and to know their content and origin, check whether they are correct or ask that they be updated, complemented, or rectified (art. 7 of Legislative Decree n° 196/2003). In accordance with the same article, there is the right to ask for the deletion or blocking of any data that is processed breaking the law, or to be opposed in any case, for legitimate reasons, to their treatment. Submissions should either be addressed to SC Sviluppo chimica S.p.A., Via Giovanni da Procida, 11 - 20149 Milano, to privacy@federchimica.it or to one Partner of the NANOFORCE Project who shall forward them to SC Sviluppo chimica S.p.A..
